

Javier Rousseau
2020 Rosé de País, Maule Valley
CHILE

ABOUT THE PRODUCER

For over 250 years, the Rousseau family has been farming this same estate, home to 150+ year old vineyards. With a true love of the land and an irrepressible desire to tell its story, Javier Rousseau (who trained professionally as a chef before turning his focus to winemaking) produces wines that absolutely sing. Bursting with old-vine character, vibrancy and fresh acidity, they are the natural companions to a good meal.

ABOUT THE VINEYARD

Centenarian pie franco País
Bush trained vines
0.8 hectares at 120 meters / 393 feet elevation
Dry farmed with regenerative farming practices
Clay loam soil

ABOUT THE WINE

Hand harvest, basket press, native yeasts
6 months in very used oak

TASTING NOTES

Nearly magenta in color and laced with that tart cranberry and watermelon character that País shows in spades, it's invigorating.
